WHAT IF:
Your insulin pump suddenly OVERDOSED.
The patient’s bedside medication pump MALFUNCTIONED.
Your grandmother’s pacemaker STOPPED WORKING.
A children’s hospital lost internet access from a CYBERATTACK.

These aren’t examples, they’ve actually happened.

The leaders of the CyberMed Summit are committed to preventing these malicious attacks and developing solutions to keep patients safe and medical technology secure.

Join the conversation at this first-ever event and learn how you can change the landscape of medical cybersecurity.

WHAT FOLKS ARE SAYING
“The sophisticated health care devices our patients need for survival are built from vulnerable systems that are just as hackable as our home computers. The viruses, malware and worms of the Internet don’t stop at the digital borders of hospitals.”
