

Laura Mercer, MD

Clinical Assistant Professor, Obstetrics and Gynecology
Director, OB/GYN Clerkship
Director, Intersessions Course
Chair, Simulation Curriculum Subcommittee
Co-Chair, Clinical Curriculum Subcommittee
University of Arizona College of Medicine – Phoenix

Laura Mercer, MD, serves as the OB/GYN Clerkship Director and the Director of Intersessions, a longitudinal course that includes the transition to residency curriculum at the University of Arizona College of Medicine – Phoenix. Her interest in medical education through simulation prompted her to be named the inaugural chair of the Simulation Curriculum Subcommittee of the Clinical Curriculum, a group charged with the vertical and horizontal integration of simulation curriculum in the college.

She completed her medical degree at the University of Arizona College of Medicine – Tucson, and her OB/GYN residency at the University of Arizona College of Medicine – Phoenix. She has earned national recognition for her involvement with the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, where she has served on several councils, committees, and task forces. Dr. Mercer is active in the Association of Professors in Gynecology and Obstetrics, presenting several workshops annually.

Her clinical interests include minimally invasive surgery, adolescent health, abnormal uterine bleeding, complicated contraception and family planning.

A native Arizonan, she resides in Phoenix with her family and their enthusiastic Labrador retriever, Jake.
